

STEM4HUMANITIES NEWSLETTER

: STEM skills for Humanities

Project activities back on track

The project was lagging slightly in the previous period, but due to coordinated efforts for the consortium the activities of the project came back on track.

Activities of WP2 were concluded with the organization of the mini-course for the humanities professors. The course was highly praised by the participants in all countries, emphasizing that the project addressed a timely and important topic. All partner executed the mini-course and WP was then completed.

WP3 planning which began with the 2nd TPM in Athens was then taken up for implementation. A through analysis was carried out to ensure that the MOOC that was to be designed under the WP3 would address the needs of the students and increase their skills and competences. The enrolment for the MOOC course will soon be open in all partner countries.

Next steps and what to look forward to

The project now enters in a critical phase as we head to the final parts of the project. Here is what will take place in the next couple of months:

- Enrollment of students for MOOC in all partner countries.
- Planning and formalization of all activities under WP4, i.e. to carry out e-internship for students. This includes, inviting expression of interest from students and companies.
- The 3rd TPM is scheduled in May 2025 at Wroclaw Tech, Poland. This would be an important meeting to ensure all project activities are planned and execution discussed. It will ensure that the project is completed in time.
- The project results will be disseminated during the 2nd International Conference on Social Context of Science at Wroclaw Tech, on 12-13 May 2025. The project will also be showcased as a partner of the conference.
