Breaking Barriers Towards Inclusion

The Breaking Barriers Towards Inclusion project has taken important steps forward: partners met in Sofia, published the Work Guide for Professionals and organised inclusive events in three countries. These activities support the project's aim of bringing adult migrants and local residents together through leisure and community participation.

Partners meet in Sofia

In June 2026, project partners gathered in Sofia, Bulgaria, for the second Transnational Project Meeting, hosted by ALIBIS LTD.

Representatives from Spain, Greece and Bulgaria reviewed progress, discussed the final details of the guide and exchanged ideas for inclusive community events. The meeting also provided an opportunity to share experiences, strengthen cooperation and coordinate the next steps.

Co-funded by the European Union

The Work Guide for Professionals is now available!

Developed to support professionals working with adult migrants and communities facing social segregation across Europe, the guide brings together practical tools, inclusive methodologies and community-based approaches that promote participation, coexistence and social connection.
It supports practitioners in creating shared spaces where people from different backgrounds can meet and participate, helping to challenge stereotypes and reduce social barriers.

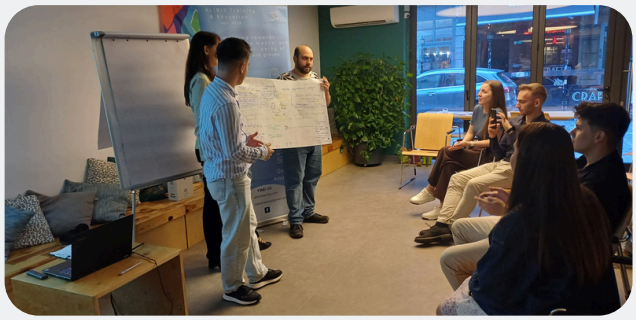

Inclusive events across three countries

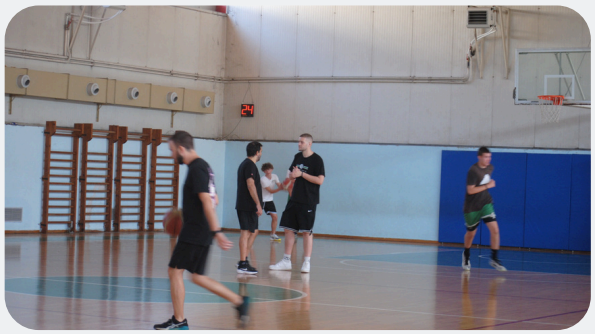

Three inclusive community events took place in Sofia, Bulgaria, Valladolid, Spain, and Larissa, Greece. The events brought people from different backgrounds together through shared activities, creating opportunities to connect and learn about one another.

Co-funded by the European Union

With a focus on participation and cooperation, the events aimed to encourage intercultural dialogue, challenge stereotypes and build connections between people from different backgrounds.

What comes next?

The next phase will focus on sharing the project's resources and experiences with a wider audience. Photos and testimonies collected during the events will contribute to a video awareness campaign highlighting the value of inclusion and community connections.
